Movies- watching movies and films completes the whole or partial visual and audible representation for the attention span of a human. We watched some films like The Dark Secret of Hendrik Schon, Shivers, Fly,... These films triggered a lot of thought into our to a level that we related the science and life to it.

Scientists- We researched on some scientists works.

Physicists like Richard Feynman, Hendrik Schon and Scientist/ artist like Catherine Kramer have done extensive research and works related to quantum physics, nano science.

Experiments- We are working on the magnetite crystals. Graphene to be still seen under the microscope. Experiments are still being worked on.

Readings- We were given a few readings. And rest we did it on our own while doing our Research.

Research- Gathering information was based on surfing the net, going through readings, watching films which can trigger thoughts, we are working on experiments and waiting for the results. There is also a lot to learn new facts about science by looking at others works. Not only are they inspiring but also we look at things in a different way.
